

Papua New Guinea

Record 3 things that you have learned about the people from Papua New Guinea.

This Outreach Education Program for schools is made possible by the partnership between the South Australian Museum and the Department of Education and Children's Services. Outreach Education is a team of seconded teachers, managed through the Open Access College, who are based in public institutions.

(C) Department of Education and Children's Services and SA Museum

This work may be reproduced by South Australian teachers for use with their students. For all other uses contact the Open Access College.

Authors: Chris Nobbs and Therese Kemelfield 20.05.09

Government of South Australia
Department of Education and Children's Services

South Australian Museum Education

Papua New Guinea

Explore the Pacific Cultures Gallery and discover the daily life of the Pacific Islander people.

Find the Papua New Guinea case and look for this Hohao board and bark belt on display.

Use this notebook to record and share your discoveries with your friends.

Names:

South Australian Museum Education

Museum guidelines

1

We would like you and all our visitors to enjoy visiting the museum.

- Please stay with your group.
- Walk safely around the exhibitions.
- Talking is an important part of learning. Please remember to use a quiet voice in this public place.
- The museum glass cases can get dirty or scratched. Please enjoy looking without touching.
- Please use the stairs instead of the lifts.

Getting started:

- In your small groups look closely at the artefacts made by people from Papua New Guinea.
- Share your discoveries with your friends.

South Australian Museum Education

Life in the Pacific Islands today

6

Today people from Papua New Guinea live in towns or villages in the mountains or near the sea.

A family from Iruupi village.

Carrying bags or bilims for sale at the Rabul market place.

Neroni showing Peter how to make a bamboo bow.

How do you think life in their villages might have changed and what might have stayed the same for many years.

South Australian Museum Education

Stone clubs

5

Record your discoveries here.....

Papua New Guinea

2

Find the Papua New Guinea Discovery Drawers.

- Open the single drawer and find the Inquiry Cards to guide your activities.
- Choose an inquiry card and work in pairs to find the artefacts on display. Record your answers to the questions in the notebook provided.
- Open the double drawer, unpack the artefacts and pass them around in your group. Investigate how these artefacts were made and used.
- Use the video camera to record your discoveries.

Be prepared to share your discoveries with the rest of your class.

Weapons, music and tools

3

Record your discoveries here.....

Eharo masks and Hohao boards

4

Record your discoveries here.....