No of Travelers	Destination/s	Reasons for Travel	Total Cost of Travel
1	Leiden	To attend the 11 th International Sponge Symposium and present a poster recently digitised Banzare collection of Antarctic sponges (Phylum Porifera), collected by Douglas Mawson and his team in 1929-31. The collection includes 690 'lots' of 127 sponge species.	$2,127
1	USA	This activity is part of an Australian Research Council funded Discovery Project (DP220102772), in which we are investigating the Ediacaran fossil succession in the Flinders Ranges. In this trip I intend to become familiar with the lithologies and fossil assemblages of the Ediacaran fossil localities in California and Nevada, as well as with the lab techniques used by our project collaborators Prof. Droser (Univ. of California–Riverside) and Prof. Gaines (Pomona College).	$3,754.24
